Dear Trevor Curtis,

In preparation for your decision to begin receiving your benefit under the Komatsu U.S. Pension Plan, it is important that you understand the options available to you.

This Retirement Kit contains important information about your pension benefits and the forms you need to complete before you can begin receiving your benefits. A checklist is enclosed to guide you through the process. Please note the figures presented in this kit may change slightly after we receive new optional form factors for 2020. Please complete and return all your election forms and other required documentation to us in the enclosed envelope no later than 60 days from benefit commencement date. Your paperwork expires on March 1, 2020. We must receive your completed forms and required documentation by the first of the month in order for you to begin receiving payment of your Plan benefit on the first of the following month. Your pension payments will not become effective until Komatsu Mining Corp. has received all your properly completed forms and applicable documentation with the commencement date indicated on your Election Form. Please remember to keep a copy of all forms for your records.

Komatsu U.S. Pension Plan
Notice 1 – Descriptions of Payment Options

Name of Participant: Trevor Curtis Calculation ID: 7136_4810 102765

Please read carefully to make sure you understand the payment options available under the Plan. We encourage you to consult a financial advisor to help you understand the effect that starting your Plan benefit may have on your personal situation.

Normal Forms of Payment Under the Law

If you are single – Single Life Annuity is a monthly annuity payable for your lifetime. When you die, payments will stop, with no further benefits payable to anyone.

If you are married – 50% Joint & Survivor is a reduced monthly benefit payable for your lifetime. After you die, your spouse will receive 50% of the amount you were receiving for the rest of his or her lifetime, if your spouse survives you. If you are married and you elect a payment option that provides for a benefit payable to your surviving spouse of less than the 50% Joint & Survivor or if you designate someone other than your spouse as your beneficiary, you must provide a notarized spousal consent.

Optional Forms of Payment

You have a choice as to how your pension benefit will be paid. All optional forms of payment available under the Plan are described below.

Single Life Annuity – A single life annuity is a monthly annuity payable for your lifetime. When you die, payments will stop, with no further benefits payable to anyone. If you are married, you must provide a notarized spousal consent to elect this option. Your monthly payments for this option will be larger than those under the joint and survivor annuity forms.

Joint and Survivor Annuities – A joint and survivor annuity provides a monthly benefit for your lifetime. When you die, a monthly survivor benefit equal to 50%, 66 2/3%, 75% or 100% of the amount you receive is payable after your death to your surviving spouse for the remainder of his or her lifetime. Under this method of payment, the amount payable to you during your lifetime is less than the amount you would receive under the single life annuity. The reduction is necessary, because of the added cost of providing benefits over two lifetimes. The amount of the reduction depends upon the age of both you and your surviving spouse and on the percentage continued after your death.

Single Life Annuity with Months Guaranteed – A single life annuity with months guaranteed is a monthly annuity payable for your lifetime 60 months guaranteed. For example, if you die within 60 months of the date your benefits commence, payments for the same amount will continue to be paid to your beneficiary (or to your beneficiary's estate if your beneficiary dies) for the remainder of the 60-month guaranteed period. The payments to your beneficiary will cease after the last guaranteed payment is made. If you are married, you must provide a notarized spousal consent to elect this option.

Certain and Life Annuity – A certain and life annuity is a monthly annuity payable for your lifetime with 10 or 20 years guaranteed. For example, if you die within 10 or 20 years of the date your benefits commence, payments for the same amount will continue to be paid to your beneficiary (or to your beneficiary's estate if your beneficiary dies) for the remainder of the 10 or 20-year guaranteed period. The payments to your beneficiary will cease after the last guaranteed payment is made. If you are married, you must provide a notarized spousal consent to elect this option.

Additional Benefit Due to Late Commencement – an additional benefit will be payable to you because your Benefit Commencement Date is after your Normal Retirement Date. The Additional Benefit is the sum of payments which would have been made had you started the monthly benefit on your Normal Retirement Date, plus interest through your Benefit Commencement Date.

IV. Designation of Additional Beneficiaries For Pension Benefit

(To be completed if you are electing a 10 or 20 Certain and Life Annuity and you wish to have multiple beneficiaries). This is not required if you elect a Joint and Survivor Annuity. If you have any changes to your beneficiaries, please call the Komatsu Mining Corp. Benefits Department at 1-800-797-6645.

I hereby direct that upon my death after my retirement, the amounts payable with respect to my death under the Plan, if any, shall be paid to the following person(s) or legal entities as my PRIMARY BENEFICIARY(IES):

SSN	Name	Address	Relationship	Percentage

The form of distribution of such amounts shall be pursuant to the distribution provisions of the Plan.

If I have designated more than one primary beneficiary above, the death benefit shall be equally divided among my primary beneficiaries who are living at the time of my death unless I specify otherwise on this form. If no primary or contingent beneficiary survives me, the entire amount should be paid according to the terms of the Plan. If a beneficiary is alive and otherwise eligible to receive a benefit on the date of my death, but dies before actually receiving payment, the benefit that would have been paid to the deceased beneficiary shall instead be paid to the deceased beneficiary's estate, subject to the applicable terms of the Plan.

If I am married on the date of my death and my death precedes the distribution of Plan benefits to me, the death benefit under the Plan shall be paid to my surviving spouse in the form of the survivor annuity described in the Plan, unless an election not to receive such survivor annuity has been made with spousal consent. In the event a survivor annuity is paid to my surviving spouse, no death benefit will be available to the beneficiary or beneficiaries designated above.

V. Participant Authorization

(You must read the following information & sign below to finalize your election.)

Election

- My benefits under the Plan will be paid to me in the form of a 50% Joint & Survivor if I am married, or a Single Life Annuity if I am unmarried, unless I waive my right to receive that form of payment. If I am married, my spouse must consent to this waiver by completing the Form 2 – Spousal Waiver Form in the witness of a notary public.
- I have reviewed all of my options, and I understand the financial effect of waiving the Qualified Joint and Survivor Annuity or Single Life Annuity available to me.
- If my benefit is calculated based on the amount of my primary Social Security benefit, I have the right to supply my actual primary Social Security benefit or actual wage history obtained from the Social Security Administration for periods prior to my termination of employment and to have my accrued benefit determined on the basis of such actual Social Security benefit amount or actual wage history.
- I have been informed of the actual or the estimated amount of my benefit under each optional form of payment currently available under the terms of the Plan. I elect to have my benefit paid to me as I have indicated on this form.
- I may rescind my election at any time prior to 7 days before my Benefit Commencement Date, January 1, 2020 (or if later, seven days after receipt of this benefit election kit).
- If I die before January 1, 2020, this election will be revoked and my surviving Spouse will receive a pre-retirement survivor annuity.
- My Social Security Number (last 4 digits), full legal name and date of birth as shown on Page 1 of this Benefit Election Form are correct.

Marital Status and Spousal Consent

- My Spouse's consent is irrevocable unless I change my election.
- The spousal consent requirement is waived if I do not have a Spouse. Therefore, if I attested to being divorced, legally separated, widowed or single in the Marital Status Declaration section of this form, I acknowledge and represent that I do not have a Spouse as of the date this form is signed.
- A notarized spousal consent is valid only for the Spouse who signs the consent. If I am divorced or legally separated (or if I am not now married), but I marry between the time this form is signed and my Benefit Commencement Date, this election will be invalid because my new Spouse will then be eligible for the Joint and Survivor Annuity, unless notarized spousal consent is received from the new Spouse.
- Any Qualified Domestic Relations Order (QDRO) that has assigned all or a portion of my pension benefit to an alternate payee will affect the amount of my benefit. I am required to notify Komatsu Mining Corp. of the existence of any such legal order, and if I fail to do so, accept legal and financial liability for my failure to notify. Except as disclosed in these materials, there is no QDRO or pending DRO relating to my benefit.

- If I attested to being single, legally separated or widowed in the "Marital Status" section of this form, I acknowledge and represent that I do not have a spouse as of the date this form is signed. If this representation is false, I accept legal and financial liability for the Plan's reliance on this representation.

Distribution and Tax Information

- I cannot change my payment effective date after payments have begun.

Komatsu U.S. Pension Plan
Notice 2 – Relative Value Comparison

Name of Participant: Trevor Curtis Calculation ID: 7136_4810 102765

To help you understand the payment options available to you, the chart below shows the "relative value" of your payment options compared to a Single Life Annuity as of various representative ages. This chart helps you to compare the value of distributions paid in different forms at those representative ages. The comparison is made using an interest rate of 1.33% and life expectancy based upon the RP2014 Bottom Quartile of Annuitants table (male retiree with female beneficiary), which may be different than the Plan's interest rates and life expectancy assumptions.

The relative values below are based on average life expectancies. The actual value of payments ultimately made under any payment option will depend on how long you live and, for the Joint and Survivor payment options, if applicable, how long your surviving spouse lives. In other words, these values are based on average circumstances for participants as a whole and may not reflect your individual situation.

These illustrations are meant to help you to evaluate your payment options. However, the exact values of payment options will vary for every combination of participant and joint annuitant ages. If you want to obtain a relative value comparison that is specific for your age for the optional forms of benefit payment that currently are available to you, please contact the Benefits Department at 800-797-6645.

	Relative Value Percent at Age 55	Relative Value Percent at Age 60	Relative Value Percent at Age 65
Single Life Annuity	N/A	N/A	100%
10 Year Certain & Life Annuity	N/A	N/A	96%
20 Year Certain & Life Annuity	N/A	N/A	88%
50% Joint and Survivor Annuity	N/A	N/A	98%
66 2/3% Joint and Survivor Annuity	N/A	N/A	98%
75% Joint and Survivor Annuity	N/A	N/A	97%
100% Joint and Survivor Annuity	N/A	N/A	97%

Joint and survivor annuity options were determined assuming you and your joint annuitant are the exact same age. See Description of Pension Plan Payment Options.

Your Actual Benefit Amount

The information presented in this notice is based on a hypothetical participant at a representative range of ages and a comparison of the relative value at those representative ages; it is not based on the amount of your actual benefit. The amount of your actual benefit is provided in the enclosed benefit statement. You can use this amount to estimate the relative value of how much you would receive under each of the forms of payment under the Plan by referring to the above table.

Please refer to Notice 1 – Description of Payment Options for a description of your payment options and Form 1 – Benefit Election Form for the actual dollar amounts payable under the various payment options available to you.

How to Interpret the Relative Value Percentages:

Generally, a payment option with a higher relative value is more valuable than a payment option with a lower relative value. (So an option with 100% relative value would be more valuable than one with an 85% relative value.) However, there are some things you should consider carefully before you make a choice based on these assumptions. Here are a few examples:

- If you live longer than our assumptions, you will receive greater value than illustrated. Of course, the possibility exists that you may not live as long as our assumptions project; in that case you will receive less value.
- There are many different factors that can have an effect on the relative value of the benefits you receive. For example, there could be significant variations between your age (and the age of any joint annuitant) and the ages that were used for purposes of the illustrations above. Interest rates may also fluctuate in the future. In some cases these variations could result in your receiving greater value than illustrated above and in others less value.
- Certain payment options may have tax implications that may deter you from choosing that option, even their relative value is high.
- If you have a more immediate financial need, it may make sense to choose an option that provides more cash up front, even if it has a lower relative value.

You should evaluate your payment options based on your own situation and your personal needs. Use the relative values as a guide, but understand that they are based on assumptions that may not wholly apply to your situation. You may wish to contact a financial or tax advisor before you make a choice to be sure you fully understand your payment options and their implications.
